Dear Sir/Madame:

Sent: Tuesday

I am emailing regarding Aquarion's Proposed Permanent Rate Increase. Please note my objection to such a large increase. As everyone knows the economy is struggling, along with families, businesses, and the government. Is this the correct time to let such a large increase pass? A 21% increase right now is too much to ask. A small reasonable increase right now has to be acceptable, but allowing such a large increase right now will be devastating.

Please consider denying such a large increase. Thank you for your time and consideration.
