Request from: Electricity NH

Question:

Reference Testimony, page 6, lines 8 – 17: To the extent that the “revenues PSNH receives from the charges are credited to PSNH’s distribution revenue requirement, thus decreasing distribution rates,” please quantify the decrease in distribution rates attributable to revenue credited from Supplier Service charges for each of the past five years and produce any documentation of PSNH’s inclusion of such revenues in its submissions to the Commission related to distribution rates.

Response:

In the 2008 test year, PSNH included $16,653 to be credited to distribution rates annually. PSNH’s current rates are the result of a settlement between parties, therefore, it is not possible to determine the specific decrease in distribution rates attributable to Supplier Service charges. The amount of revenue received from such charges on an annual basis is on track to exceed $1 million for 2013. In the next distribution rate case, PSNH will credit to its distribution revenue requirement the amount of revenue (performed for known and measurable changes) received during the test year from billing the Selection Charge, Billing and Payment Service Charge and Collections Service Charge, thus reducing distribution rates for all customers.
