Hi Barbara:

My apologies. After reviewing the application I see I did not include the attached addendum which contains responses to most of the questions on the application. So it is no wonder you asked for more info.

To respond to your other specific questions:

1. The nameplate capacity is 189 kw. The handwritten response to question 13 on the application form is not correct.
2. We were told by the VEPP administrator that because the facility is a "load reducer" it has no asset ID #. I have since asked him to clarify this in light of your question and will let you know more when I find out.

Thanks for your patience.

Eben

Eben,

Please expound on the description of the facility.

Can you please explain why there is so much incomplete or missing detail on this application? As you know from the five other applications that have been approved, I don't want to penalize family farms by having to write deficiency letters, which delays the date they are approved for NH RECs, but I can't recommend approval without complete information.

Eben,

If I don't have the GIS # by Monday morning, I will need to write a letter of deficiency. (We have numerous reviews at the PUC, and our deadline is August 28th.) I hate to delay a revenue source for your client, but the application is missing information that is necessary for approval.

The process of getting a GIS number is not onerous. A call to James Webb, GIS Administrator, 408.517.2174, jwebb@apx.com, only takes a few minutes. Why the delay?

Hi Barbara:

The folks at Green Mountain Power are working on getting the GIS #. If you could hold off on the app until I get that info to you that would be great but if you need any additional info from me please let me know.

Thank you.
