CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: Okay. We're here this morning in Docket DE 19-142, which is the PSNH, d/b/a Eversource, Rate Recovery of Costs in Excess of the Cumulative Reduction Cap Under the Power Purchase Agreement with Berlin Station, LLC. And I understand that there was a request that we would proceed to hearing today. We did not notice this as a hearing, and we also have some questions. So I think we'll decline that request today.

Let's start with appearances, please.

MR. BERSAK: Good morning,

Commissioners. On behalf of Eversource, myself, Robert Bersak, and my aide-de-camp here, Jessica Chiavara. And we also have with us two subject-matter experts in case there are substantive questions: Mr. Rick

White, and Ms. Erica Menard behind me.

MS. HOLAHAN: Carol Holahan from Foley Hoag, on behalf of Burgess Biopower this morning. With me I have Company VP

1	Robert Desrosiers.
2	CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: Thank you.
3	MR. KREIS: I think it might be my
4	turn. Good morning. I am D. Maurice Kreis,
5	the Consumer Advocate, here on behalf of
6	residential utility customers.
7	CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: Thank you.
8	MS. ROSS: Good morning,
9	Commissioners. Anne Ross. And with me today
10	is Tom Frantz, Director of the Electric
11	Division; Rich Chagnon, Assistant Director of
12	the Electric Division; Brian Buckley, Staff
13	attorney; and Steve Eckberg, analyst with the
14	Electric Division.
15	CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: Thank you. We
16	do have a Petition to Intervene, and I see
17	that Attorney Boldt is not here. Are there
18	any objections to that petition?
19	MS. HOLAHAN: I just got off the
20	phone with Chris. I was surprised he wasn't 21	here. He misread the Order of Notice and 22	thought the hearing was at 1:00 today. He is currently en route.

CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: Oh, okay.

23

24

Thank you.

But no objections from the other parties as to that intervention?

MS. HOLAHAN: No.

CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: Okay. Then we are prepared to grant the intervention today based upon the written motion.

I think we will move next, unless there are any other initial matters folks need to cover, we'll move to hear your initial positions on the settlement agreement, starting out with you, Mr. Bersak.

MR. BERSAK: Thank you, Chairwoman Martin.

Back in 2018, the legislature saw fit to enact a law that was basically identified as Chapter 340 of the laws of 2018. That law was intended to provide a methodology whereby the wood-fired power plant up in Berlin, the Burgess Biopower plant, would be able to continue to operate for another three-year period, to give that plant time to figure out how, you know, how to structure things to allow it to economically continue to generate well into the future. Since the enactment of that law, Burgess and Eversource have had a number of ongoing discussions to try to figure out is there some way of implementing the law and implementing the intent of the legislature in a way that would minimize impacts on Ultimately, you know, as a result customers. of those ongoing discussions, we entered into an amendment to the existing power purchase agreement. That amendment was filed with the Commission back on November 19th of last year. Under that amendment, we would effectuate what it is the legislature asked us to do, which is basically to change one of the terms in the existing power purchase agreement, such that the PPA does not revert to a sort of market-based cost for the next three years.

So what will happen during the next three years is, instead of that market-based mechanism going into effect, it will be suspended so that the plant will continue to get the full power -- the full energy prices of the agreement, and then at the end of the three years, the power purchase agreement will go back into place. So at the end of the three years, if nothing changes, the entire amounts that we're talking about that are -- that would have been refunded each year annually to customers will be refunded in one lump sum. So there's a potential of a $60 million payback to customers at the end of this three-year period. If something changes during this three-year period by additional legislature or changes in the marketplace, you know, we'll deal with it accordingly.

We also use the opportunity of this change to the PPA to deal with one other outstanding issue, which was there was a dispute, or a lack of understanding at least, between Eversource and Burgess on how certain property tax issues would be dealt with as a result of properties up in Berlin that were dedicated solely to the Burgess plant. We've resolved that, and that resulted in a property tax payment of outstanding amounts owed to Eversource north of a million dollars. And we've come up with a methodology going forward. So we used the law as a way of resolving another issue as well, which really isn't germane to today's proceeding.

The parties got together, all the parties in the room, with the exception of Berlin. So it was Staff, Consumer Advocate, Burgess and Eversource got together to discuss where do we go with this, and what should we do with the amended PPA. were certain issues which the Commission noticed in its Supplemental Order of Notice, issues that OCA had raised. As a result of the discussions between all the parties, we've resolved all the outstanding issues. Α settlement agreement amongst the parties was filed on December 31st. And all the parties are onboard, you know, to resolve this issue, this matter, expeditiously, with a desire to be able to implement the impact on rates as part of the February 1st stranded cost recovery charge change. Hence, that was the request that was relayed to you earlier today about turning this into a hearing so that we have a resolution of this issue, so that the costs of implementing this law could be included in our stranded cost charge effective February 1st. As part of the settlement, there are no longer any issues outstanding.

It's my information and belief that the City of Berlin is supportive of the settlement. Hopefully Mr. Boldt will get here and he can speak for himself. are no other parties to this proceeding. There are no issues that need to be hashed We have the witnesses here in the event out. that the Commissioners have substantive questions. They can discuss this and be sworn in and talk about whatever issues you may have. But our desire is to have the settlement approved, which would approve the amended power purchase agreement; that the impacts would be included in the stranded cost rate; that the stranded cost hearing on I believe the 21st of this month, with an order to follow, and rates effective February 1st of this year.

We do have marked or we're potentially ready to mark three exhibits.

One exhibit would be the amended PPA that was filed with the Commission back on November 19th between Eversource and Burgess, the second exhibit would be the settlement agreement that was filed on December 31st, and the third exhibit would be the prefiled testimony of Mr. White. So there are matters in the record that support whatever the Commission does.

Now, I did hear this morning the Commission's decision not to turn this into a hearing today. But perhaps the Commission can get the information it needs in order to rule on this matter by an order nisi; that way, there would not be a need for a hearing, and the Commission's decision would be published. And should anybody have anything they wish to say, there will be an opportunity per the notice to bring matters to the attention of the Commission. But that would be a methodology that would allow us to be in a position to effectuate the rates as part of the February 1 rate changes.

so that's where we are. And we are ready and willing to answer whatever questions the Commission has. And we're very hopeful that we can in fact get to a result that allows for approval of the amended PPA and settlement and inclusion of the rates as of February 1st. Thank you.

CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: Thank you. Ms. Holahan.

MS. HOLAHAN: Good morning. As the Commission is aware, this case has a long and complicated history spanning a number of dockets and a parade of parties in more than a decade. The issue currently before the Commission, the issues relate to the intersection of energy policy as implemented by the legislature, bilaterally negotiating the PPA and amendment between the parties, and the Commission's jurisdiction and authority related to both of those issues. While the Order of Notice and Supplemental Order of Notice both raise a myriad of statutory and constitutional issues, Burgess takes the position, as Mr. Bersak just stated as well, that the joint settlement agreement filed by the parties on the 31st of December, makes it unnecessary for the Commission to reach the vast majority of them.

It's Burgess's position that, in light of the settlement agreement, really the sole issue before the Commission at this point in time is whether the PPA filed by PSNH on -- the PPA amendment, excuse me, filed by PSNH on November 19th is in the public interest.

Burgess further asserts, however, that the Commission's public interest review of this amendment differs from the vast majority of PPA amendments and PPAs in a number of material respects. First, the Commission approved the underlying PPA in this proceeding -- or excuse me -- in DE 10-195 more than ten years ago after a very contentious hearing. Second, the amendment that the parties have entered into resulted from the invocation of the change in law provision in the PPA itself after the New Hampshire legislature passed Senate Bill 577, also referred to earlier.

And then finally in that legislation, the New Hampshire Legislature made a series of findings that supported its policy choices that related to the facility's importance to the fuel diversity, capacity and sustainability here in New Hampshire.
So, in essence, in enacting Senate Bill 577, it's our position that the legislature determined what it deemed to be in the public interest. And the Commission, in its order in December of 2018, accepted that determination when it amended its final order in DE 10-195 and lifted or suspended operation of the cumulative reduction factor.

So in our view, the Commission's review should consist of what I'll call an enhanced compliance standard. Really, they should look at is the amendment consistent with the findings in Senate Bill 577, and does it comply with the Commission's order in DE 10-195. And because the amendment does both of those things, the Commission should determine that it's in the public interest.

The remainder of the issues outlined in the Order of Notice or the Supplemental Order of Notice I think have already been briefed or are just not material to the Commission's decision.

We support Mr. Bersak's recently advocated position of an order nisi or any other procedural mechanism that would get the issues before the Commission by January 21, in order that the new rates could go into effect by February 1.

CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: Thank you. Mr. Kreis.

MR. KREIS: Thank you, Chairperson Martin. Good morning, everybody.

The Office of Consumer Advocate has made no secret of the fact that across numerous dockets here at the PUC and elsewhere, we are concerned about the extent to which the ratepayers of this state, particularly the residential ratepayers of this state, are called upon again and again to assume financial responsibility for maintaining the existence of power plants that may not otherwise be economical in the region's wholesale electricity market. And consistent with that general perspective, as the Commission is aware, we raised a number of significant issues with the implementation of Senate Bill 577.

Nevertheless, I agree with everything that Mr. Bersak and Ms. Holahan have just said. I signed the settlement agreement because the resolution that we propose in this case differs, but it doesn't ultimately resolve the question of how much additional financial responsibility ratepayers will bear, particularly residential ratepayers, for the public policy advantages of assuring the continued operation of the wood-burning facility in Berlin.

Beyond that, I would say that we made an assessment of the litigation risks associated with the arguments that we made, and we believe that the settlement agreement fairly apportions the retail rate impacts as between the various customer classes in a manner that we find acceptable on behalf of residential utility customers.

With respect to the sort of procedural posture of where we are today, I would point out the following: Paragraph V of Section 31 of RSA 541-A, which is the Administrative Procedure Act, says that unless precluded by law, informal disposition may be made of any contested case at any time prior to the entry of a final decision or order by stipulation, agreed settlement, consent order or default.

So, from an Administrative Procedure Act perspective, that is exactly the situation that we confront here. Every single party to this proceeding is a signatory to the settlement agreement, except for the City of Berlin. My impression is the same as Mr. Bersak's, that the City of Berlin is either supportive of or has no objection to the settlement agreement. And so I don't see any legal impediments to the Commission simply issuing an order after today's prehearing conference approving the settlement agreement, provided that whatever questions and concerns or uncertainties you may have as Commissioners are resolved.

Obviously, if in the wake of such an order some party finds that they're aggrieved by this Commission's determination, then a rehearing or a request for rehearing is available pursuant to RSA 541.

So I would urge the Commission to approve the settlement agreement as expeditiously as it can for the reasons that Mr. Bersak has articulated. Getting this into rates quickly is in the interest of what I would call rate stability. So that is what I would suggest the Commission do, and I think that's all I have to say.

CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: Thank you.

Ms. Ross.

MS. ROSS: Good morning. The Staff doesn't need to add any substantial amount to what's already been said. Staff did sign the settlement agreement. The reason for signing it was to avoid what appeared to us to be unnecessary and time-consuming litigation when we were faced with SB 577, which clearly requires the Commission to amend the order approving the prior PPA, and I quote, "notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary." We believe that the settlement agreement conforms to the terms of Senate Bill 577, and for that reason we entered into the settlement and support it.

CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: Thank you.

Okay. As I said at the beginning, the Commission has a few questions, and we will share those today. And I want to start with Mr. Bersak.

You had addressed, laid out why expedited treatment is sought in this case I think in the first instance. And so the question we have in return is if this were to be heard on the 21st of January and resolved in time for the February 1st rates, would that not address the issue here you're concerned with?

MR. BERSAK: As long as we have an order prior to February 1st that accepts the settlement here and accepts the rate treatment and that the Commission includes that as part of the SCRC order which will also be issued, I suppose that that would meet the needs of the Company to effectuate this on February 1st.

CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: And what happens if it's not treated in an expedited manner and we go past February 1st?

MR. BERSAK: Then what will happen is we will be making payments to Burgess that we are not recovering through rates. So those costs will be rolled over until August, and then we will have to include in rates, you know, what we've paid, with a return to be recovered from customers. So it will create an aberrant increase. Very small, but it'll be a larger increase in rates in August, along with the return on the monies we have not yet collected.

(Commissioners confer off the record.)

MR. BERSAK: And Mr. White reminds me that the term of the amended power purchase agreement is that it does not take effect until we have an order from this Commission. So what would happen if not ruled on now is that Burgess will not get its money and will have to continue to operate for another half-year at reduced rates. And what economic impact it has on them I couldn't answer.

CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: Is there any reason we would have to wait until August, or could it be addressed in March or sometime --

MR. BERSAK: Obviously, the Commission can do whatever it sees fit. But we've had rate changes to effectuate changes in transmission costs or stranded costs or whatever energy service costs on a semi-annual basis. And right now that schedule is February 1st and August 1st, intended to try to avoid having multiple different rate changes throughout the year.

Is it possible? Sure, we could do that. But it hasn't been the practice to do that.

Thank you.

So

CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN:

there are a couple of areas -- and we obviously were not aware of the request to move this forward today -- there were a couple areas we wanted to address because of the request to expedite. We were looking to get information in advance of the 21st, and I think at this time we'll still proceed under that assumption. And if anything changes before the end of today, we'll revisit.

But we wanted to have a record request asking what is the rate impact of this agreement on the typical residential customer.

MR. BERSAK: I think we are prepared, if you would like, to have either or both Ms. Menard or Mr. White to be sworn in. I think they can answer your questions on the spot right now. And if you'd like, we could also mark those three things that I said we're prepared to have as exhibits. We can have those marked right now as well.

CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: Well, let me get through all of the questions, and then see we'll if that makes sense.

MR. BERSAK: Okay.

CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: The second request was what is the rate impact of the agreement for a typical C & I customer and the classes reflected in Attachment A to the Eversource filing dated 12/31/19.

MR. BERSAK: Got it.

CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: And we would, depending on how this plays out, we would reserve Exhibit 1 and 2 for those.

And then the larger question: The legislature provided that the Commission can obtain the cost and profitability records from Burgess. The Committee noted that the settlement agreement provides that those will not be provided as part of this.

We would like to hear from the parties today as to how we could approve the settlement agreement which contemplates returning the excess cumulative reduction in year four without looking at the cost and profitability records to know whether that return of that money to the customers is likely to happen. So I think we'd like to hear from each of the parties today on that issue. We can start with you, Mr. Bersak.

MR. BERSAK: I can start. I shall do that.

Your predecessor faced this very issue of what does that provision of the 2018 law mean, you know, given where we are and given what the legislature actually passed. And at that point, Chairman Honigberg made the determination that the provision of the 2018 law relating to the request for the financial records of the Burgess plant was really a holdover from the original version of the legislation and wasn't really applicable to the ultimate law that came out the other side. So he felt that it was an error perhaps on the legislature in drafting. But nonetheless, even though it's still in the law, it also was not particularly relevant to where we were. I think that the former chair's observations were probably The legislature did not do a accurate. particularly good job when it changed the original format of this law to what it ultimately passed, No. 1; and No. 2, given where we are today, that the books and records of Burgess are not relevant to the proceeding. So we don't think that is an issue or there's a need to deal with books and records at this time.

CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: How do you address the question of the public interest? And I did hear Ms. Holahan's position on this already. But how do you address the question of public interest that the Commission has to answer in order to approve the settlement agreement without looking at that question that I just --

MR. BERSAK: I believe that the legislature, through its enactment of the law in 2018, basically made the public interest determination as to what's in the best interest in the State of New Hampshire. In other words, it's kind of fundamental that this Commission is a creature of the legislature and only have the powers and authorities delegated to it by the legislature. In this particular case, the legislature has come up with a scheme that it wants to put into place. So I'm not sure that, given the law that we're dealing with, that there needs to be any further review of public interest. We're just implementing a law that is on the books that the legislature has enacted and that the governor signed into law.

(Commissioners confer off the record.)

CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: I'm going to recognize Commissioner Bailey to follow up on that.

MR. BERSAK: Yes, ma'am.

CMSR. BAILEY: You created a term in the settlement that puts this in play, and that is that there's some expectation that in the fourth year ratepayers will have an opportunity to, I think you said, be refunded. And so without looking at the cost and profitability, how do we know if that term has any meaning? And yes, we are a creature of the legislature. And the have to be provided. So I'd like to hear a little bit more about that, please.

MR. BERSAK: Obviously, you people are the ultimate arbiters of what needs to be done in this situation. If you feel you need anything, you'll make that determination. But what we did is we tried to implement the law as best we could, given that it was not a paragon of clarity. We implemented the law in a way that we felt was -- that preserved everybody's rights going forward. You know, did Burgess agree with our interpretation of the law? Not necessarily, but we all came to All the an agreement to move this forward. law said was -- I'm paraphrasing. have it in front of me -- is that the operation of the cumulative reduction factor would be suspended for three years from the date when it otherwise would have taken into effect. So what we viewed that to mean is not that it goes away, but that we will not put it into operation until three years down the road. So instead of going into operation when the current PPA's limit of $100 million was hit, we will continue to accrue additional amounts. And you can say, nominally, if the legislature had in mind that it was going to cost $20 million a year, you can kind of say, hypothetically, that at the end of three years this cumulative reduction fund will be $160 million. So we suspended the operation. And when it goes back into effect, what we would do is say, fine, the PPA says whatever amount above that $100 million threshold that's on the books at that next contract year will be refunded to customers by a credit to the energy bill over the following 12 months. So if we use a $60 million amount above the 100, that would mean there would be a $5 million credit on the energy bills each month going forward in that year. Will Burgess be able to pay that? I don't know. Will the legislature do something else in the interim to fix this problem that it created? I don't know that either. Basically we were handed an ambiguous law. We implemented it as best we could, and that resulted in the amended power

CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: Thank you.

MR. BERSAK: You're welcome.

CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: Ms. Holahan.

MS. HOLAHAN: I think in addition to what Attorney Bersak has argued, Senate Bill 577 does not require the Commission to ask for the books and records. It makes that a discretionary function within the Commission if it chooses to do so. We would argue that the Commission has made the public interest determination already and that it's unnecessary to look at the books and records at this time. It is -- the statute certainly could be a lot clearer, could be written clearer. But I think the important thing is that the legislature made some very important energy policy choices that it deemed were in the best interest for the State of New Hampshire as a whole with respect to the renewable portfolio standards, with respect to fuel diversity, with respect to sustainability and capacity. And those should be the overriding principal factors upon which the Commission views whether this is in the public interest and that the continued viability of the Burgess facility for a period of three years by suspending the cap is paramount in that determination of public interest.

CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: Thank you.

Mr. Kreis. I apologize. I jumped the gun here. I'm going to recognize Commissioner Bailey.

CMSR. BAILEY: With all that in consideration, don't you think it's incumbent on us when we're looking at the public interest to understand whether each term of the settlement agreement is meaningful or not?

MS. HOLAHAN: I think you can determine whether the term is meaningful without looking at the books and records. I think that there is public interest that goes well beyond. In terms of energy policy, that should be the primary focus of what is in the public interest. And the legislature determined that that paramount interest is the continued viability of this plant. And whether -- for energy and economic reasons within the state. And that is the context in which I think the public interest determination should be viewed.

CMSR. BAILEY: Then why is that term in the settlement agreement?

MS. HOLAHAN: The books and records?

CMSR. BAILEY: No, the term that says in the fourth year the cap will -- for illustrative purposes, the $60,000 [sic] would be paid back in the fourth year?

MS. HOLAHAN: I think because if we didn't address it in the settlement agreement, it would not have been reflective of the issues that have been at issue in this case. I don't see how we could not have addressed it. It's addressed in the PPA amendment. It's addressed in -- I think it's addressed in Mr. White' testimony. But certainly, I mean, how do we resolve the issue if we don't address that issue?

CMSR. BAILEY: Well, I think I hear you say that the argument is that the legislature has made the determination that above all else, and the only thing we need to consider, is that the plant should stay open for another three years. And you put that provision in the settlement agreement. Why, if that's the only thing we need to consider? And you don't have to answer that today. Maybe we can get to that at the hearing.

CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: Okay.

Mr. Kreis.

MR. KREIS: Thank you, Chairperson Martin.

I need to be very careful about what I say for the following reason: I am on occasion accused of signing settlement agreements and then reneging on them. And one of the ways I get accused of reneging on settlement agreements, actually the chief way, maybe even the only way, is I am sometimes accused of taking positions here that are inconsistent with the language in the settlement agreement. And one of the things that we agree to do in settlement agreements is to support them when we present them for consideration by you, the Commissioners. And, you know, there's just very little I can say about this, other than our agreement to the terms of the settlement agreement reflects our assessment of the litigation risk. And by "litigation risk," I mean both the risk of an adverse determination here at the Commission and a risk of an adverse determination at the New Hampshire Supreme Court if any of the terms of SB 577 or any decisions implementing SB 577 were ultimately subject to rehearing and appeal.

Commission and I were confronting the question of whether to approve this settlement agreement, and particularly the terms that waive the Commission's opportunity to inspect the books and records, I would do two things: One, I would consider the scenario in which the money is not paid back to ratepayers and essentially assume that that money won't get paid back; and then I would consider the extent to which -- because Burgess Biopower is not a regulated utility and is not a publicly traded corporation, I don't really know how illuminating its books and records would truly be. I mean, they would give you, I think, some kind of accounting snapshot of where the company would like you to think it is right now. And I don't mean to cast aspersions. One thing I can say, having worked on this docket with all of the other parties in the room, is that I think there's a lot of good faith. And I have no reason to doubt the voracity of any representations made to me either on the record or in private. But I don't really know what the financial viability of Burgess Biopower is. And I don't necessarily think that we need to -- I assume that any documents that they might generate in response to a Commission request for financial records would be tailored to make So I you approve the settlement agreement.

therefore think the Commission should just approve the settlement agreement.

CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: I'm interested to hear, though, consistent with the other parties, whether you think we can make the public interest finding that we need to without doing that.

MR. KREIS: I think that you can for largely the reasons you've already heard. One, I think the legislature has arguably sent you a message via SB 577 that it thinks that continued operation of Berlin Station is super, super important. So important that it is worth the high amount of risk that ratepayers will ultimately bear the financial cost of keeping that plant in business. And I think that -- I think I'm forgetting the second point I was going to make. I think that's essentially what you have to think about.

Oh, I also think that we should and can reasonably expect that there will be additional efforts, both at the legislature and outside the legislature, to develop a long-term solution to this problem of how to keep Berlin Station in business because I think it is in the economic interests of that part of the state, maybe even the entire state, to keep that plant in operation. And I think the owners of the plant will face a lot of pressure to figure out a way to ensure their long-term viability.

I hope that's helpful.

CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: Yes. Thank you.

Okay. We'll move on to Ms. Ross.

MS. ROSS: Thank you. I am in much the same position -- Staff, I should say, is in much the same position that the OCA is.

We signed the settlement. But I can at least share our thinking in supporting this aspect of the settlement.

A couple things to keep in mind:
We did not review the books and records of this project when we originally approved it.
There is no language in 577 that imposes a separate public interest standard. In fact, it is clear that we are to amend our approval order notwithstanding other legal provisions.

The Company -- I'm sorry -- Berlin Station, in its briefs earlier in this docket, argued that the legislative intent with regard to the additional stranded costs that would be -- or the additional over-market costs that would be paid during the three years was that ratepayers would be on the hook for them. And that argument was supported by the fiscal note and some references to the record. Without deciding that issue, we think that's a colorable argument. And what we did in the settlement was to improve that situation and to have Berlin Station on the hook potentially to repay the money. It is a contractual provision. It may or may not be enforceable. But the fact that it exists is an advantage in the future in negotiating with this facility about whether it continues to run. I think it's safe to assume that the facility is not viable if it has to pay market costs. That certainly was the information that was given to the legislature when it enacted 577.

19-142} [PREHEARING CONFERENCE] {01-09-2020}

So we can't make that factual determination, obviously, without the books and records.

But I'm not sure that the Commission needs to, I believe.

Again, we signed the settlement because we believe the public interest is very narrowly drawn here, and that having amended our order and approved the amendment, we really are now just looking at whether or not this amended PPA is consistent with our prior amended order and with the legislation.

CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: Thank you.

MS. ROSS: Thank you.

(Commissioners confer off the record.)

CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: Okay. Thank you, everyone, for answering that difficult question. We have decided that we are going to at this point proceed with the plan to have a hearing on this and that we will -- if we decide to grant expedited review, we will issue a secretarial letter outlining the expectations for the parties' representations at that hearing. And I think with that, unless there are other issues, we will --

1 MR. KREIS: I just want to clarify 2 that, from my perspective, we're not -- I know that the motion pending before you says 3 please give this expedited review. But based 4 on the APA provision that I quoted earlier; I 5 don't think we're actually asking you to 6 7 expedite anything. I think you have routine authority under the APA and the Commission's 8 rules to go ahead and approve this settlement 9 agreement. I have no problem with coming 10 11 back for a hearing later this month so that any factual questions or uncertainties can be 12 resolved, but I don't actually think it's 13 14 expedited. That may be just a little too 15 focused on that one word. But I just wanted 16 to lay that out there. 17 CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: Does anyone else want to be heard on that? 18 [No verbal response] 19 20 CHAIRWOMAN MARTIN: Okay. Thank 21 you for that. And with that, we will 22 adjourn. 23 MR. BERSAK: I have one other You identified two 24 procedural question.
